

INDIVIDUAL SKILL DEVELOPMENT

Our individual skill development program is one of Global Squad's most valuable components. Players receive hours of intense training & learn how to really take ownership of their improvement.

Global Squad players participate in 30+ hours of intense individual skill development.

Each day players rotate between stations for one hour of shooting, one hour of ball-handling, & one hour of general skill work.

Coaches monitor each individual players strengths & weaknesses. These areas will be a focus throughout the month of camp.

When camp is over, players will receive an evaluation with a detailed plan on how to continue the drive to reach their full potential.

Players will also be given a 100+ page training manual with enough drills to last a lifetime.

Our individual skill development program has seen dramatic results over the years. It's one of the main reasons so many Global Squad players have gone on to play college & professional basketball.
